

Adv Dineo Makhakhe

Growing up, she has always dreamt of being of service to other people and this purpose she manages to fulfil on a daily basis since law school. Adv. Dineo Makhakhe is a legal practitioner duly admitted to practice in the courts of Lesotho. She hold a Bachelor of Laws (LLB) Degree from the National University of Lesotho in 2018. She has an interest and experience in workplace governance law and human rights law after working with two companies in the capacity of a Compliance Officer and volunteering as a legal advisor of a local non-profit organization. She has experience in preparing advice on regulatory and compliance issues, social security issues and general law issues. She is excited to join the society as an intern because of her profound love for knowledge sharing and continuous learning culture. She brings to the team her extensive research skills and desire to learn. This platform will go a long way into developing and sharpening her skills as a legal practitioner. When she is not at work, she spends time volunteering with orphanages and non-profit organizations.